Higher Assessments

Required If Schools

Are to Be Maintained

A new list of property valuations in Hope was given the Hempstead county equalization board when it opened a month-long session at the courthouse here yesterday.

The list represents the judgment of competent appraisers working on an assessment equalization program supported 50 per cent by the Hope school district and 25 per cent each by the county and city governments.

What the county equalization board does about upholding or rejecting these new appraisals is anyone's guess. I haven't seen any figures on the list, nor have I talked to anyone on the equalization board since the executive meeting of county school directors and county and city officials at Hope High school last spring.

But it is fair comment to say that unless the county board follows the general principle laid down by this reappraisal campaign it will deal a terrible blow to free public education in our community.

There will be some who'll argue that we ought to increase the millage instead of shaking up assessments. But this course of action has been tried in years past—it is not only unjust, it leads to financial disaster. The higher the millage rate the greater the pressure to force assessments down.

The fact that the assessing level in Arkansas and our own county is not over 13 per cent writes a summary indictment against taxation policies in the past. Property that is under-assessed, or perhaps not assessed at all, is a millstone that imposes a handicap no increase in the millage rate can possibly overcome.

Other counties are taking progressive action in this matter. The Arkansas Gazette reports today Pulaski county assessments have just taken the biggest jump on record—11 million dollars. What's the story behind this? The Gazette reports: "Assessor Bruce M. Hudelston said the increase in urban real estate assessments was obtained by systematic review of existing listings by six deputy assessors since January 1—plus additions of large blocks of new real estate in Little Rock and North Little Rock for the first time."

No one likes to pay higher taxes. But every right-thinking citizen is willing to pay his just share—particularly when the issue is support of the public schools.

Seventeen years ago The Star campaigned for a state sales tax to bail the schools out of the bankruptcy into which they had been plunged by a timorous and stupid ad valorem tax policy. We got a 2 per cent sales tax then, but pointed out it would do no lasting good unless the basic property assessment system were reformed. There was no reform, and so this past spring we were confronted with a new collapse in school financing, and a new avoidance of the basic issue—this time it was proposed to postpone property tax action by increasing the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent.

The Star helped beat the sales tax increase—at the same time guaranteeing we would push the property assessment reform to conclusion in our own county and town so that the public schools would be assured of adequate and lasting support.

That's where we are today. The new assessment list on the desk of the county equalization board. If the board means to help the public schools it can give only one answer.

Mrs. Luella Spencer Succumbs in Local Hospital

Mrs. Luella R. Spencer, aged 79, a resident of Oklahoma for 49 years, died about midnight last night in a Hope hospital.

She was a member of the Okolona Methodist Church and was the author of many magazine short stories and serials in her younger years. She also held membership in the Arkansas Authors and Composers Club and the National Association of American Pen Women.

Funeral services will be held at the Okolona Methodist Church at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, August 23, by the Rev. Jesse Hamilton, district superintendent, assisted by the Rev. McKee, pastor of the Okolona church. Interment will be in Okolona Cemetery.

She is survived by three sons, Lloyd Spencer of Topi, Joseph Spencer of the U. S. Air Force, Elgin Field, Florida; Clyde W. Spencer of Sun Valley, Calif.; a brother, J. N. Riley of Little Rock and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Armstrong, Little Rock.

Grass Fire Brought Under Control

Firemen had their first call in days this morning—a grass blaze behind King's Driveway, west on Highway 67. The blaze was caused by burning trash, firemen reported.

Arkadelphia to Head State Legion

Little Rock, Aug. 21 —(AP)—Election of officers and consideration of resolutions today were the close of the annual convention of the Arkansas department. American Legion.

Keith Tudor, Arkadelphia newspaperman, was the only candidate for state commander to succeed Col. Ray M. O'Day of Fayetteville last night. However, there was a report that a candidate might be put up today in opposition to Tudor.

The race for national executive committee member was the center of most political interest. Harry G. Miller of El Dorado was expected to be nominated for another term. If so, he was to be opposed by Past State Commander Leonard Moody of Marianna.

Mrs. Charles L. Sewell of Malvern and Mrs. Joe Taylor of Searcy were running for president of the Legion Auxiliary. Resolutions to be considered by the Legion included one recommending the failing of known communists and another calling for elimination of deferment policies for college students.

Walter Schaefer of Hot Springs was installed grand chef de cave of the state 40 and 8, Legion food making organization. He succeeds W. A. Anderson of Rector.

Other officers are: T. Gordon Matthews, Marianna, chief de train; Anderson, cheminot nationale; E. E. Jelks, El Dorado, alternate cheminot nationale; Jean L. DeCamp, Texarkana, grand commissaire intendente; Joel A. Bunche, Fayetteville, grand conductor; W. B. Norts-worth, DeWitt, grand garde de la porte; Dr. G. E. Nettles, Harrison, grand commis voyageur, and the Rev. James R. Sewell, Little Rock, grand amonier.

Recruiting Office Plans to Keep Longer Hours

Selective service registrants who have not received their notice to report for induction have been flocking to the U. S. Navy recruiting station, room 202, post office building, Texarkana, Arkansas during the temporary relaxing of the selective service law which permits young men who have received their pre-induction examinations to choose the branch of Armed forces they desire.

In order to take care of this increasing number of applicants desiring to enter the Naval service, office hours have been increased from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., Monday through Saturday.

Present suspension of the order which previously prohibited persons who had received orders to report for pre-induction physical and mental examination to select the service of their choice commenced June 15 and will expire August 31. After this date persons in the above group will be disqualified to join any service. However persons who have received their notice and have had that notice cancelled for educational purposes will still be eligible for any further information young men interested in the Navy are urged to contact the Naval Recruiting Office at the above address.

Finest Stock Used in Breeding

British Envoy Withdraws Oil Proposal

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 21 —(AP)—Britain's representative exploded a surprise in the British-Iranian oil talks today by withdrawing Britain's proposal for settlement of the grave dispute.

A brief statement from the British embassy gave no hint as to whether the talks had actually broken down.

One source said it appeared Chief British Negotiator Richard R. Stokes was trying to force Premier Mohammed Mossadegh to advance a specific counter-proposal to the British offer.

In announcing that Stokes had withdrawn his previous offer which provided for setting up a new purchasing agency and what amounted to a virtual 50-50 split in oil profits, the embassy said:

"Following a discussion with (Premier) Mossadegh, Stokes has, with deep regret, come to the conclusion that the Persian government is not prepared to agree to any arrangements under which British technicians whose continued service to Persia was so urgently asked for by Mossadegh, would be prepared to remain" to supervise the nationalized oil industry.

Earlier, Premier Mossadegh talked for an hour with Stokes and America's trouble-shooting W. Averell Harriman about the deadlocked issue.

Cool Air Gives Texas Some Relief From Intense Heat

By the Associated Press
Cool air from Canada swept into Texas today, bringing relief to portions of the sun-baked state.

Showers and cloudy skies had brought temporary relief from the heat over the week-end, but the cool air pushing southward gave more definite promise.

Meanwhile a hurricane already six days old swirled in the Gulf of Mexico and was expected to bring squalls and heavy seas to the lower Texas coast.

Oregon and Washington, without appreciable rain for three months, and California had to contend with more than 75 fires in timber and brushlands.

Elsewhere in the nation, showers and thunderstorms moved eastward from the upper Mississippi valley and western Great Lakes region into the eastern Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley last night. Another band of thunderstorms occurred from southern Missouri westward across parts of Kansas and Oklahoma and into Colorado and New Mexico.

Mostly fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

Anderson Church to Hold Revival

There will be a revival at the Anderson Union Baptist Church, 3 miles South of Springhill, beginning August 22 through September 2. The Rev. Dexter Elevis will do the preaching. The public is invited.

Record Setting Film Returns to the Rialto

"I'd Climb the Highest Mountain, the picture that set an all time boxoffice at the Saenger theatre in Hope, is being returned to the Rialto for a two day run starting Wednesday, Manager Eddie Holland announced today.

The film starring Susan Hayward and William Lundigan, depicts the life of a backwoods parson in the Red Clay Hills of Georgia at the turn of the century.

Soldier Not AWOL as First Reported

A local soldier picked up Sunday on charge of disturbing the peace was first reported absent without leave from a base in Florida. It was discovered today that this soldier, listed as Garland Edwin, Jr., Hope, has a 15-day leave issued by the post. The disturbing the peace charge, city police said, resulted from an argument.

A Study of Odors Is a Very Unusual Occupation But It Pays Off for a Texas Girl

By HAL BOYLE

New York —(AP)—A brunette girl smells better and worse than a blonde.

And a red-haired gal Well-I-I she smells better and worse than either a blonde or a brunette. Naturally you fellows already know this.

I didn't until I met Miss Barbara Allen, the first real professional odor consultant who ever came into my life.

Her name may sound like a sad and famous old British ballad, but this Barbara Allen is a strapping five-foot-eight-inch blonde Texas girl who nose her business.

"The nose is a built-in radar," she said in a tall accent, redolent of Palestine, Tex. "Our sense of smell is 10,000 times more sensitive than our sense of taste. But few people today know how important odors are — and how they change our lives."

Miss Allen, now 23, got interested at the age of 14 in the theory of smells while working at a cosmetics counter.

"I like to know what I am doing," she said. "I asked about odors, and the people who ought to know didn't know about them."

So she studied odors for years — on her own. The books didn't give her all the answers she wanted, however, so she came here to enter the odor field.

"But I found there wasn't any odor field," she said. "So I became, so far as I know, the first person to make a career as an odor consultant."

Miss Allen sighed, and a gentle lilac fragrance from her own hair form beset the air. A nearby copy boy immediately began to quiver at the nostrils.

"Different odors have different effects," Miss Allen said, dreamy as the annual report of the U. S. Steel corporation.

"Most people are unaware of them. I prefer lilac because it is soothing to the nerves. Lavender is used to attract and trap lions and tigers. Magnolia has been found successful in stimulating the taste."

Violent Storm Rolling Along Mexican Coast

Mexico City, Aug. 21 —(AP)—A reformed tropical hurricane with a 130-mile-an-hour wind wallow stormed through the southwest Gulf of Mexico today toward the Central Mexican coast and its oil fields.

Overnight it had regained most of the force with which it raked Jamaica last Friday and took 15 lives.

Along Mexico's tropical eastern shore on the Gulf, Tampico and Veracruz, the country's two biggest ports, took precautions.

But the hurricane — if it kept its present course during the day — was due to hit the mainland about halfway between the ports between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. (CST). Both expected to be on the outer fringes of the storm.

The weather bureau said the full force was headed for the Tuxpan-Nautla area.

Tuxpan is an oil port of about 13,000 population about 135 miles up the coast from Veracruz. Nautla is a small town on the coast between Tuxpan and Veracruz.

The big blow swept across Jamaica Friday, then hit the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico yesterday. It lost force over the sparsely-settled land and headed across Campeche bay in the southwest gulf. The Mexican weather bureau said it picked up new force last night.

In an advisory issued at 5 a. m. (EST), the weather bureau said the center of the raging storm was about 240 miles east of Tuxpan and was swirling westward at about 14 miles an hour.

The hurricane already has cost 155 lives and caused damage of $50,000,000, its toll as it belabored the British island of Jamaica before it left the Caribbean.

Nautla is a small town of less than 2,000 population.

Hurricane winds are expected to be felt as far north as Tampico, a modern city of almost 100,000 population.

Squalls and heavy seas may extend to the lower Texas coast, the weather bureau said in continuing small craft to take cover until the full force of the storm has passed.

The weather bureau has advised ships in the southwest Gulf of Mexico to remain in port until all dangers have passed.

The storm developed hurricane force six days ago on moving into the Caribbean from the Atlantic and since has traveled almost 2,300 miles along a west-northwest path.

The hurricane — dubbed "charlie" by the weather bureau — struck the Yucatan peninsula yesterday with 100-mile-an-hour force.

Youth Council Group to Ask City for Full-Time Parks, Recreational Director Here

A committee from the Hope Youth Council will appear before the Hope City Council at its regular meeting at the City Hall tonight at 7:30 to request that the City of Hope employ a full-time Parks and Recreation Director.

The plan to be presented to the council was approved in a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce last week at which representatives from all civic groups and the Hope Civic Improvement Association were present.

J. P. Young Jr., President of the Youth Council, announced this morning that he and Mayor-elect John Wilson who is also vice-president of the Youth Council would draft the proposal to be presented in accordance with the recommendations of the sub committee appointed to study the problem.

This committee composed of Clifford Franks, Miss Beryl Henry, Albert Graves, Syd McMath, Mike Kelley, and city councilman Paul Raley.

The group will recommend to the Council that a city ordinance be drafted creating a Board or Commission to administer and oversee all program for the city and with authority to hire a full time director. The Youth Group will also indicate to the City Council that approximately $4000 will be made available for expenditure for equipment, materials, playground paraphernalia, etc.

The plan and requests of the Hope Civic Improvement Association are included in the overall city wide plan. Representatives from the colored organization, headed by E. D. Douglas, will be included in the group slated to appear before the City Council.

Representatives from all civic groups, the Youth Council, and the public at large are urged and invited to be present at tonight's meeting.

Salvation Army Drive to Get Underway

Plans for the annual Salvation Army Campaign for funds to get under way on Monday August 27. are shaping up very nicely with workers being recruited from the various civic clubs of the City according to Claude Tillery, chairman of the Local Salvation Army Service Unit Committee.

Mr. Tillery stated that the workers will gather at the Barlow Hotel for a meeting on next Monday night to receive instructions and materials needed in their work of calling upon the Business people and others of the city for their contributions to this most worthy work which in the past 4 years has proven itself very valuable to our own community through the funds left in the hands of the Joy Committee as a result of previous drives.

Attention should be called especially at this time to the general work of the Salvation Army which extends to 9 different Countries and Colonies of the world reaching from our own community to the battlefields of Korea, serving humanity in peace as in war and extending Spiritual as well as material help to those in distress. Mr. Tillery is hopeful that the goal of $24,000 will be reached as early as possible in the drive.

Mr. Tillery wishes to inform the public that Envoys K. E. Moss Field Representative for the Salvation Army for the State of Arkansas will speak at 8:15 p. m. today over the local Radio Station KKAR in a program explaining some of the work of this organization.

Mr. Tillery announced that the Captains for the various Divisions of workers would be made public tomorrow through the Star.

Rift Reported Between Chinese North Koreans

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP) — The Korean war armistice subcommittee met in its fifth round table discussion today as a United Nations spokesman hinted the Chinese and North Koreans do not see eye to eye.

The four subcommittee members—two Allied, two Communist—devoted more than half their two-hour and four-minute session at Kaesong to map reading in an effort to draw a military dividing line for a cease-fire.

There was no report on results. They scheduled another meeting for 11 a. m. Wednesday (8 p. m. Tuesday, EST).

Munwhille Vice Adm. C. Turner Jay, senior U. N. delegate, rejected Communist charges that U. N. forces ambushed a Chinese patrol in the neutral zone, killing one Red soldier and wounding another.

Jay informed North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, his Communist counterpart:

"Your message of August 10 is hereby acknowledged. I will reply fully to you when I have received a complete report of the investigation in the alleged violation of the neutral zone on August 10. A preliminary report does not substantiate the charges you have made."

The official U. N. stand is that "partisans from either side"—North Korean or South Korean may have carried out the attack in an effort to disrupt peace talks.

The possibility of a growing divergence of views between Chinese and North Korean armistice negotiators was raised by Brig. Gen. William F. Nuckols, U. N. command spokesman.

Nuckols said he believed the Chinese were receiving information from Peking, capital of China, while some directly from the North Koreans via "down from" the "Communist hierarchy."

His use of "Communist hierarchy" was interpreted by Communist Communists in Moscow.

Nuckols made this statement only 24 hours after he reported the U. N. authorities in Kaesong that an ambush of the Chinese patrol was the mark of North Koreans trying to sabotage armistice talks and make the Chinese fight the war for them.

Co-incident with Nuckols' comments, members of the U. N. military convoy to Kaesong Tuesday noted for the first time several score men of military age wearing the white garments of farmers, heretofore peasants seen working in the fields along the war were mostly old men and women.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert B. Tucker said that those seen Tuesday were really young men wearing leather military belts and blue sneakers, such as those worn by soldiers in the North Korean army.

Chinese placed a patrol of a dozen or more soldiers north of the Red outpost at Panmunjom along the road. They patrolled at intervals of a few hundred yards along this outskirts of the neutral zone. None was armed.

Since truce talks started July 10, Chinese delegates have expressed somewhat anxious to end the shooting and less interested in the North Koreans in whose buffer zone is created.

Location of the buffer zone is the current stumbling block. The subcommittee, consisting of two Chinese and one North Korean delegate, is trying to reach an acceptable solution. The talks will continue on the 30th parallel.

General Nuckols told the press Tuesday that the Communist Communists in Kaesong had been told to stop the shooting and to let the talks continue.

On the other hand, Nuckols said the two Chinese generals, both full five-man Red delegations, had traces of national patriotism.

"China," he added, "has powers of retaining the principle of the Communist hierarchy of the north Koreans."

Nuckols noted that through the "two channels"—the Communist hierarchy and the Communist hierarchy—there was a "major" difference of view.

He added, "The Chinese have slightly greater desire to lay armistice based on realities than the North Koreans."

There was no hint of this possible division reflected in subcommittee talks at Kaesong.

Correspondent Tucker said the four delegates about an hour at the Kaesong round table session normally meet. They are to meet again tomorrow for more armistice talks.

A map and diagram of the Kaesong area were shown in Kaesong. The map showed the Kaesong area and the Kaesong area.

Printed at the top the words: "Be happy, keep smiling."

Jet Hits Army Truck, Twelve Soldiers Die

Fort Dix, N. J., Aug. 21 —(AP)—A flame-enveloped jet plane — trailing fiery death as it fought a losing battle for altitude — plowed into a group of soldiers yesterday. Twelve men, including twin brothers, were killed.

Twenty-one other soldiers were burned or injured as the T-33 jet force trainer plane crashed moments after taking off from nearby McGuire air base. The plane's swampy crew perished in the wreckage.

Among the dead soldiers were Pvt. George W. and Robert W. Hoyle, 22-year-old twins from Camden, N. J., who were inducted into the army about four months ago. George was killed instantly.

Their widowed mother, Mrs. Hazel Hoyle, was preparing to leave for the post hospital into yesterday when word was received that the critically injured Robert also had died.

The jet was part of a 24-man army detail that had just finished learning how to lay communication lines in a belt of scrub pine at the edge of the base.

Survivors said the plane bore down on them "like a ball of fire." Although the twin, skinned over a quick partly-loaded with soldiers and crashed about 80 feet away.

Lt. Bartram Brinley, Fort Dix public information officer, said a blazing white fuel tank, apparently jettisoned by the plane, dropped onto the truck, turning it and its passengers into flaming wreckage.

Of the 30 killed almost instantly. Two others died in the hospital today. All but one of the dead was identified.

Of the 30 injured, only one remained on the critical list today. The soldiers were members of Battery B of the 20th field artillery battalion of the 9th Division.

It appeared to some witnesses that the plane caught fire on take-off. Personnel in the base control tower said they were trying to contact the two-man crew when the low-flying plane dipped into trees about 2,000 feet south of the field.

The crash was the second worst at Fort Dix in two years. On July 30, 1949, a navy plane and jet trainer crashed in mid-air, killing 10 people. Last July 2, a jet trainer crashed into the base, killing five.

Party Control of Stake in New York

New York, Aug. 21 —(AP)—Control of the Republican organization in the state and the Democratic organization in the city were the chief stakes today in New York state's primary elections.

The two intra-party battles highlighted an otherwise dull summer campaign with only minor contests in upstate areas.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, a Republican, is the GOP leader in the state, while the Democratic leader is Mayor John F. Lindsay of New York city.

In Manhattan, the Democratic Party is expected to retain a majority, but some Democratic leaders believe they can just win.

The Suffolk fight involves the election of committeemen in the county's 210 districts.

In Manhattan, there are Democratic district leader fights in 12 of the 10 New York county assembly districts. DeSapio expects to retain a majority, but some Democratic leaders believe they can just win.

HOW ARE THINGS IN KAESONG?—Catching up on the news from the Kaesong cease-fire negotiations are these Yank infantrymen, members of a recalcitrant rifle team which had just helped UN troops storm and capture "million dollar mountain" in Central Korea. The hill, captured by the GIs in the face of heavy machine-gun fire, took its name from the "million dollars' worth" of UN ammunition spent on it before it fell. Things to Know About New Students

This is the sixth of a series of seven articles that will be run daily entitled "Is My Child Ready for School?" It is our desire that they will be of some help to parents who have children that will enter school in September.

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, "Is My Child Ready for School?" We cannot assume that all five and six year old children are ready for school. Some will come eagerly and willingly while others come hesitatingly and abashed.

Most parents would like to know how they can pave the way to school entrance so their child can take this new experience in his stride, help him take his place proudly in his group and find pleasure in standing on his own feet.

It is not fair to decide upon readiness for school by comparing a child with the neighbor's or friends' children as a measuring stick. Personal ability and past experiences will determine, to a large degree, the rate of achievement the child will be able to maintain. Different body structures, personalities and home environment will affect the type of schoolroom responses. These responses are bound to differ since some have been away from home a great deal, being used to being alone and have developed independence, while others have been separated from their parents but a few hours. Some children are physically strong or robust while others have been ill much of their lives. Many children grow up with several brothers and sisters or at least with another child, while others have spent most of their lives with adults. With all possible differences in physical, emotional, social, and perhaps economic environments, is it any wonder that so many approaches to the education of individual children have to be used?

At the close of the first school year each parent should not expect every child to have completed the first grade requirements. In many cases it takes two years and in some cases three years are required to develop social, physical, emotional, and educational habits to be ready for the second grade.

It is hoped that today's parents are understanding parents and can fully appreciate the reasons that some children are required to spend more than one year in the primary grades. No child is happy if he cannot have reasonable success in achieving the goals of his grade.

It is sounder, pedagogically, to give the child a good reading start, even though it takes two or three years to attain his objective, than to "drag" through several promotions and finally be retained in one of the upper elementary grades. A remedial program is more effective on the lower grade levels than in the upper elementary grades. Reading ability is the basis for promotion in the primary grades.

for the day Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, who heads the U. N. subcommittee, stated when newsman asked if any headway had been made. He replied:

"I have nothing to say. We are meeting again tomorrow."

The U. N. command reported that Nam II charged Monday that U. N. aircraft for the third time attacked white-flagged Communist troops attached to the armistice delegation.

Nam II asserted Allied planes "set afire and entirely destroyed a prison camp" of the Red delegation. He said it was marked "with white flag and white cloth." It was traveling between Kaesong and Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Nam II charged this was a violation of the neutrality agreement. The U. N. command has insisted that the Reds must give prior notification of the time of departure and the proposed route of travel to be immune from air attack.

George A. MacArthur reported from the East-Central front that the battles raged throughout the day northeast and northwest of Yanggu. On the far eastern flank, MacArthur said, attacking South Korean troops secured north-south ridges near Kaesong except for one hill recaptured by a Communist counter-attack Tuesday.

Large numbers of Communist troops were reported massing a few miles north of the battleline above Yanggu, MacArthur said there were reports the Reds have committed some of their reserve strength to defend the craggy ridges.

Replacements poured steadily into Red lines during the four-day battle. Allied artillery hammered them incessantly. Fog hampered air support.

Small Red patrols attempted to infiltrate the Allied battle line. Only light contacts were reported along the rest of the Korean front. South of the Kaesong neutral zone on the western front, Reds hurled 100 rounds of mortar fire at a U. N. patrol.

The only significant action was above Yanggu, eight miles north of the 38th parallel.

Beer Baron in Jail, Too Ill for Trial

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Waxey
Gordon, the 63-year-old beer baron of prohibition days, lay very ill today in a federal jail with the possibility of remaining behind bars for the rest of his life.

Gordon, who is being held on narcotics charges, will be turned over to New York state for prosecution on dope charges.

If convicted by the state, he would be subject to a life term as a fourth offender. Federal law has no such provision.

The decision to turn Gordon over to the state was revealed in federal court yesterday when his attorney sought reduction in his $250,000 bail. The bail hearings adjourned to Aug. 27.

Gordon—whose real name is Irving Wexler—was arrested
Aug. 2 with three other men. Authorities said they had $180,000 worth of raw heroin with them.

A county grand jury heard witnesses yesterday and is expected to hand up an indictment in the next few days, when Gordon will be taken out of federal custody and turned over to the state.

He was not in court yesterday to hear the decision to try him as a fourth offender. He lay in the federal house of detention with virus pneumonia, too sick to be moved. Doctors were treating him every three hours.

Joey Maxim Not Worried Over Jinx

Summit, N. J., Aug. 21 (AP)— Light Heavyweight Champion Joey
Maxim says he's not worried over the title jinx that has hexed five boxing kings this year.

"Jinxes aren't going to help anybody in there Wednesday," said Maxim, who defends his crown against Irish Bobby Murphy in Madison Square garden tomorrow night. "I'm more concerned about some of that rough stuff he likes to pull."

If he pulls any dirty stuff on me, I'll give him some of it right back," said Joey who started to smoulder as he discussed the matter.

Maxim has been fighting professionally for 12 years and knows all the tricks.

"This is all or nothing with me," said Maxim. "I'm on the spot and I'll give it right back to him. Thumbs, if necessary. I don't ever start that kind of stuff but I'll protect myself."

Joey didn't go into the details on his complaint but Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns was more specific.

"He gets away with that hitting and holding," said Kearns. "It's Murphy's best punch. I think the public wants a fight in which they can see all the punches landing."

"I don't want to bring up low punches," said Kearns, "but Murphy has a few low ones. Let's have a fight instead of a wrestling match. If Murphy fights according to the rules, Maxim will beat him easy. He'll beat him anyway. Probably will knock him out at that."

Murphy, a fighter who bores in from the start and keeps throw-

They Are Through Says Rita's Lawyer

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Rita Hayworth's attorney said today there is "absolutely no chance of a reconciliation" between the actress and her husband, Prince Aly Khan, and that she probably will file for a Nevada divorce "within a week."

Attorney Bartley Crum arrived from Paris by plane at New York international airport.

He said his negotiations on the financial phases of the actress' material difficulties are ended.
However, he said, there are other matters to be settled, including the right of visitation by the father of Jasmine, the couple's daughter.

He said the divorce action could be filed as soon as necessary amendments are made to the pleading to conform to French law, which required more details.

Asked if the reason for the break between the couple was "because of Aly's gambling and staying out nights," Crum replied:

"I will say this. Any American girl likes her husband to come home at night."

Infiltration of Aliens Said Dangerous

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—
Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said today a massive, illegal infiltration of aliens into this country is "potentially more dangerous" than an armed invasion.

The influx would provide an enemy nation "a ready-made statement," he said.

1. Aliens illegally in this country are countable in the millions, and may total 5,000,000.

2. Among them are "militant Communists, Sicilian bandits and other criminals" in vast numbers.

3. The immigration service has made only small effort to locate and deport these unwanted foreigners because of a variety of factors, including lack of staff and money.

For instance, McCarran said, his judiciary subcommittee found that last spring to round up cases for initiation because the staff could not keep up with routine work.

McCarran's statement accompanied a report to the senate by a subcommittee which he heads in an investigation of subversive activities.

Another member of the subcommittee, Senator O'Connor (D-MD) said in a separate statement that Windsor, Ontario, and Cuba are assembly points for aliens seeking illegal entry into the U. S.

He said agents for attempted entry from Mexico total 500,000 a year.
Many of these are "wetbacks,"
Mexicans who cross the shallow Rio Grande river to look for jobs as farm hands.

O'Connor said there are some 250,000 Aliens from Europe now in Cuba and that "many are communists, with the result that Cuba is a hot-bed of communism."

The subcommittee report quoted C. H. Pennington, chief of the immigration service's New York investigating staff, as testifying about rich and powerful alien smuggling rings, well organized and aided by high-powered lawyers skilled at finding loopholes in the laws.

ing punches without a letup, was burned up at the charges from the Maxim camp.

"I don't pull any of that sort of thing," said the soaking San Diego sailor "There isn't anything in the New York book about not hitting with a free hand.
They're supposed to penalize you for holding with both hands."

"They're just jettin' up an alibi," said Murphy. "Maxim can't take it in the body, and believe me, I'm going to belt him plenty there. As a matter of fact, I'm going to knock him out with a left hook to the body within seven rounds."

DEER HEARTS AND GENTLE PUPPIES—Deer and dachshunds can live together in harmony—provided there's plenty of chow to go around. This happy "family group" on a farm near Bergen, Germany, proves it. A German farmer found two young deer, injured and abandoned. He took them home, only to discover that his pet dachshund had given birth to seven little, long ones.
Now, all nine pets are growing up together. (NEA-Acme photo by

New Price Fight Hinted by Truman

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—
President Truman indicated today
he is about to open a new fight to get from congress the price and other control powers he says are needed to combat inflation.

At a White House meeting, the President asked his national advisory board on mobilization policy for advice on a message to congress asking stronger control authority.

When Mr. Truman signed the present law on July 31, he denounced it as inadequate and served notice he would ask congress later for changes. He said in a statement at that time:

"We will not be able to hold down rising prices under this act, and I am going to ask the congress to amend it to give us adequate controls."

The advisory board on mobilization policy is headed by Charles E. Wilson, the defense mobilization director. There are 16 other members.

Presidential secretary Joseph Short disclosed that Mr. Truman

DOROTHY DIX

Man Underfoot

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I have been married nearly five years. I am 50, he is 60 and retrired. He is very good to me, but here is my problem. You know how a woman hates to do housework when her husband is constantly about the house. If he goes out into the yard, he runs in and out asking me what I am doing. Even if I'm sewing he likes to stand over me and see what's going on. He makes me so nervous and I haven't the courage to tell him so. I'd so much like to have a little privacy, but I have none. He gives me everything I need for myself or the house, but I would like to get out with other women for a change.

C. R.

Answer: You have so much to be thankful for that it almost seems flying in the face of Providence to carp over seeming trifles. I do know, however, just how you feel and realize the importance you place on having time to yourself to have reached your years and have a devoted husband around the place is an ideal that most women would give anything for. By 50, a woman usually has either become widowed, divorced or has a wandering husband for whom the family hearth has no allure. Compared to these situations, yours, I know you will agree is most enviable.

Your husband's only fault is that he loves you too much—if that is possible. Don't risk losing this devotion by hurting his feelings. You will be everlasting sorry if you do.
You must make an effort to see your position objectively, and accept it. Since you apparently have plenty of spare time, why not devote some of it to a charitable cause, which will accomplish the double purpose of getting you out of the house without causing ill-will, and doing your good turn for the day?

Loneliness is a far worse plight than lack of privacy; be thankful it is not your lot!

Gable Says He Is Merely Fishing

Reno, Nev., Aug. 21 (AP)—Clark Gable says his presence in this divorce colony is purely that of a nimrod and angler.

The actor, staying at Lake Tahoe's Glenbrook Inn, told reporters yesterday he has no thought of seeking a quickie divorce from Lady Sylvia Ashley.

He pointed out that his wife filed for divorce June 20 in Santa Monica. He said he is quite willing to wait on the slower procedure of the California courts.

LOST CADETS TO LEAVE
West Point, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—
The last of the estimated 90 accused cadets are expected to leave the military academy in the next few days. Three more left the point yesterday, bringing to 81 the number thus far ousted for cheating at examinations.

HONEST
Bristol, Eng., Aug. 21 (AP)—The person who found Arthur Coggins' wallet had a conscience. It was awful sluggish.

The postman delivered the wallet to Coggins yesterday. Still in it were the five one pound notes, it contained when Coggins lost it—on Aug. 20, 1947.

came over from Europe two and one-half years ago and doesn't write English very well. I wrote to him and received letters written for him by his buddy, who has now

I would like to write to my boy friends but he thinks his English is very bad and won't write back.
Should I write him anyway?

Fair Enough

New York, Aug. 21 - President Truman's committee on civil rights, after mysterious proceedings, including consideration of "hundreds of C. I. M. n. n. t. i. o. n. s." which were not identified by name, recommended that Congress enact a law against lynching. The bills offered in Congress in accordance with this political coup all exempted murders, bodily injuries and other atrocities against innocent citizens inflicted by union mobs.

Union mobs usually operate by the flagrant apathetic tolerance of faithless policemen and their political superiors who have been in most cases members and agents of the Democratic party. The committee's recommendations on this point said the new law should provide punishment of all public officers who should fail to use proper measures to protect against mob violence "in a person accused of a crime."

This is a disgraceful trick of language played in an official report of the United States government which was immediately adopted as a great public document by the Communist party and given a grand display in its official book-shop in New York.

Here is a sly attempt to protect from mob violence persons accused of crimes but to deny the same protection to persons not accused of any crime. The victim of a lynching mob who is charged with rape may be guilty or rape. Many victims of lynching have been guilty of violent act which arouse local anger. That they should not be lynched goes without saying and the Southern states which are the special objects of the typical hate Communist propaganda put forth in this document have almost extinguished lynching according to this definition. But the dramatic plight of the low-abiding American worker who is placed outside the protection of the law by this vicious document is far worse than that of the victim who is not "accused of a crime." It is no crime to go to one's job through a picket line of thugs deliberately arrayed along the approaches to premises which criminal union leaders have undertaken to blockade. But the individual who is beyond the intent of this evil proposal hearing the signatures of eminent clergy simply because he is false is not "accused of a crime."

It is futile to argue that these cat-paws of the Communist program were not aware of this sly distinction. They are all educated persons and it would be a reflection on their intelligence to say that they were too stupid to realize that their proposal shows more solicitude for a person lynched under accusation of a crime than for a person whose innocence was not questioned at all. They knew what they were slinging.

The most violent union lynchings have been confined to the northern, eastern and western states until recently. Nowadays, however, professional gangs are invading the southern states and there is no possible doubt that the committee on civil rights had this development in mind when it wrote into its report accounts of selected lynchings in southern states but did not mention a single killing or beating of a low-abiding citizen by the union mob in other sections.

There is not a shred of evidence in the book comparable to this excerpt from a report by Congressman Chas. Hoffman, of Michigan, to the house of representatives describing typical events in a wild insurrection against the authority of lawful government in 1948.

"One Greenville, North, a union attorney, seemed to be a prime moving force in the organization of picket line rowdiness" in Omaha. "When the picketers were at a private meeting with the city council to discuss means of improving law enforcement to prevent violence, Mr. North arrived with approximately 400 union members and walked into this private meeting. According to one witness, the group created a mob scene and said that this union was taking over and would run the show. On another occasion, in the court-room of Judge Chase, North made the following statement: 'You have seen what they did to them in Minnesota yesterday; 300 of them went in there and took 300 seats out of that Cudahy plant and beat hell out of them. They haven't even found ten of them yet and that isn't half of it. They busted up all the machinery. This is going to be the pattern from now on.'"

Luther Youngdahl, the muck Republican governor of Minnesota, flinched and pattered in the presence of violence and for his reward, recently has been appointed to the United States court in Washington, D. C. by nomination of Senator Hubert Humphrey, a nominal Democrat but the principal promoter of the Marxian program of the pro-Communist wing of the Truman party. During this insurrection two law-abiding Negro citizens did the sensible thing, when they were set upon by union lynchings mobs. In each case the Negro citizen drew a bead on a goon and blew his head off. Both colored men were tried and acquitted with honor and there is no doubt that any southern man or woman who does the same will be acquitted, too. When the cops blanch or can't be found, the citi-

Many New Coaches in Arkansas

Little Rock, Aug. 21 - (AP)—More than two score Arkansas high school football teams are operating under new head coaches this year. Many more have new faces among their assistant coaches.

Two members of the Big Six conference have no head men. At Hot Springs, Dub McGibbony has succeeded Joe Diddy, to whom he was an assistant last year. El Dorado imported Woody Johnson from Furman university, where he was freshman mentor, to take over the reins left empty by the resignation of H. C. Jenkins. McGibbony has been around for a young man. A former pro grid star, he was head coach at Arkansas several years before going to Hot Springs.

For his assistant, McGibbony reached out to Walnut Ridge and grabbed Duval Thornton, former Hot Springs and U. of A. gridman. That created an opening in the head coaching position at Walnut Ridge, and Dewey Thompson, another Razorback, stepped up from an assistant's post to fill it.

Other new head coaches include: Smuckover, W. D. Bagnall; Stamps, Clint Fuller; Nashville, John Shaddox; Marlanna, Bill Landers; Jonesboro, Chli Davis; Hope, Joe Ensminger; Morrilton, Clyde Thrift; Paragould, John Douthitt; DeWitt, Sam Cook; Newport, Louis Hayden; Bentonville, J. D. Vachon; Harding Academy, "Searcy"; High Rhodes, Conway, Raymond Bright; Texarkana, Bobby Elton; Fordyce, George Henry; "Barkite, Jimmy Jack."

There's also a new head coach in Arkansas' collegiate pigskin ranks. He is Jim Benton of Arkansas A. & M., Monticello, former great pass catching end for the U. of A. and the Cleveland and Los Angeles pro teams. Benton was an assistant at A. M. last year and stepped up when Jack Eckhardt resigned.

65,000 to See Pro Game at Dallas

Dallas, Aug. 21 - (AP)—The weather wouldn't appear conducive to football talk, but one of the hottest summers in Texas history hasn't prevented interest reaching its peak a full month ahead.

Prospects are that at least 65,000 fans will be in the Cotton bowl Friday night to see a National Football League exhibition game. That would be a record for professional football in the Southwest.

It isn't just an ordinary game, however, that is making the people flock to tickets while mopping their brows from 100-plus temperatures. This is a future — it matches, for the first time, two of the great gridiron heroes of Texas: Doak Walker and Kyle Rote.

Walker packed in the fans while playing three all-America seasons at Southern Methodist. Rote drew them in a like number of great campaigns at SMU although he made one of them without Walker as a teammate.

Doak already was in pro football and proved to be the outstanding rookie as he led the league in scoring while playing for the Detroit Lions.

Rote signed a contract with the New York Giants last winter and will be playing his first game as a pro when the Giants and Lions clash Friday night.

Marie Antonette is credited with glamorous special footwear for ladies' boudoir attire.

"Murder" in Quotes

THE STORY: James (Jim) Malloy, my name and I'm charged with murdering Charlie Berman, who practically stole an amusement park from me by bringing officials who leased the park land on which it was built. The jury has finished its deliberations and I'm in the court room with my lawyer, Gene Sawyer, awaiting the verdict.

"We find the defendant, James B. Malloy, not guilty as charged in the indictment."

DESPITE the nasal tone, I heard it clearly. But I had to resist an inclination to stand and shout for the clerk to read it again. I even shot a questioning glance to Gene for confirmation of what I had heard. Gene was smiling smugly, and I knew it was all right. The judge thanked the jury for its services and dismissed it.

"Hurry over there and thank them as they come out," Gene snipped. I went over to the jury box and began to shake hands of everyone I could reach. Gene was beside me, suavely thanking each juror for his contribution to the cause of justice.

When they were all properly thanked, I turned to Gene. "How did you know what they were going to do?" "The expression on the foreman's face. Don't ask me to explain—I just knew it was all right."

I took a deep breath. "Well, thanks. Of course that doesn't pay the bill. I want to talk to you about that."

"Sure. I want to talk to you, too," Gene had turned his attention to someone behind me. I looked. It was Julie Bradford who had come through the gate in the railing that separated the spectators from the trial area. Julie had tears in her eyes. This amazed me. I had always pegged her as too serene for emotion.

"I'm so glad, Jimmie! I want you to know that I didn't voluntarily testify against you. I'd told several people about seeing you drive away from Berman's place that night. I thought it odd that you should be visiting Berman. My statement was quoted to the sh-

George Calls for Work on New Tax Bill

Washington, Aug. 20 —(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) called on the Senate finance committee to get down to brass tacks on a huge new tax bill today. He fixed a Sept. 1 deadline for presenting it to the Senate.

Summoning the tax-writing committee he heads into closed session this morning George told reporters "we ought to get down to some actual voting today."

Before the committee in the house-passed tax bill which would add an estimated $3,000,000 to taxes for the rest of this year and $7,200,000,000 annually thereafter.

Most senators hope to lay one or two billion dollars off the house increases, even though President Truman asked for a $10,000,000,000 boost.

"George said no one knows now just how much of a tax increase the committee would recommend. We are not trying to approach it from a five, six or seven billion dollar basis," he said.

"Instead," he said, "the Senate committee will consider how much it wants to raise individual income taxes. The house upped them about $3,000,000,000 on a full year basis by providing a flat 12 1/2 per cent boost over present amounts paid."

Then senators will turn to corporation taxes, which the house raised nearly $3,000,000,000 annually by lifting normal, surtax and excess profits rates.

Finally the committee will consider wide changes in the excise tax laws and the so-called "death duties" provisions.

"If we can get all the committee members to play on the same team, we might complete all these discussions this week," George said.

When it takes three or four days for the staff to revise legislation and complete a report before the bill can go on to the Senate.

Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona has promised immediate consideration on the Senate floor.

The tax measure is one of the big obstacles in the way of his plans for a congressional recess starting about Oct. 1.

Catholic Knights Name Officers

Fort Smith, Aug. 21 —(AP)—J. Albert Hinkle of Conway is the new president of the Arkansas chapter of the Catholic Knights of America.

He was elected at the closing session of the organization's triennial convention here yesterday.

Other officers are: The Rev. Gregory Kohlen, Fort Smith, spiritual director; Otto Lidenhart, Morrilton, first vice president; Joe Liebhafetz, Pocahtontas, second vice president; N. T. Minden, Fort Smith, third vice president; G. H. Kenkle, Brinkley, secretary; and Leo Hummer, Fort Smith, treasurer.

Jewish Leader Discusses Race Relations

Petit Jean State Park, Aug. 21 —(AP)—"We must be ready to defend race relations in the south and do something to improve them," delegates to Arkansas' first institute of Judaism were told yesterday.

Col. Bernard Bernstein, executive consultant to the United Nations social council, added in his address that, "I'm not here to tell the south how to improve, but I think the south will do it."

"People in the south apparently fear that the United Nations, seeking to guarantee human rights, will give Russia the technique and opportunity to inquiry into what goes on in the south."

"It won't make any difference if Russia has another forum. She will use anything. To any criticism, Russia is going to ask: 'What about the treatment of the Negro in Mississippi?'"

Bernstein said southern feeling may be delaying Senate ratification of the U. N. genocide convention, which would outlaw mass killing of racial, religious and cultural groups.

(D-Colo.) of the commerce committee to take over the files, unfinished probes and responsibilities of the special committee.

"The crusade against crime has only begun — it cannot be allowed to die," Wiley told Johnson in a letter.

Johnson told reporters Wiley's proposal would be considered by the commerce committee.

The federal communication commission meanwhile, urged congress to enact a flat ban on interstate transmission of information usable in gambling. The commission proposed criminal penalties for violators.

The plan was made in a letter to Senator Johnson in which the FCC renewed its objections to a pending proposal for a system of licenses for transmitting data which might be used by gamblers. That measure includes exemptions for general circulation newspapers and retransmission of data for general circulation newspapers and regular broadcasters.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), a member of the present committee, has asked Chairman Edwin C. Johnson

Bridegroom Does It Right
Boston, Aug. 20 —(AP)—A bridegroom arrived yesterday to claim his bride driving not one white charger but two.

He was Prof. Helmut A. Zander of the University of Minnesota. He was married shortly afterward to Miss Annemarie J. Fogels, who came here a year and a half ago with her parents as displaced persons from Latvia.

The professor explained He's heard his bride's parents talk about an old Latvian custom—one in which a bridegroom arrives on his wedding day driving two white horses.

So the professor borrowed the chargers and a festive carriage from an antique museum on a Brooklyn estate.

Democrats Defend Far East Policy

Washington, Aug. 20 —(AP)—Democrats today defended President Truman's Far Eastern policies and assailed a Republican assertion that any final peace which leaves Korea divided would be a "delusion."

Eight Republicans, in a week-end report on the inquiry into the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, called for "liberation and unification" of Korea.

They blamed what they labeled "appeasement" policies of Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Acheson for the loss of China to the Communists. They said the Yalta agreement spawned most of America's difficulties with communism in Asia.

Answering unofficially, Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.) said that if the eight Republicans headed by Senator Bridges of New Hampshire—want to risk World War III by "excessive" demands in Korea, they ought to say so flatly.

He criticized in assertion in the GOP report that a settlement South of the Yalu river border of Manchuria would admit the success of Chinese aggressors.

"The Republicans seem to be demanding now more concessions than Russia and China and yield in Korea and save face," Hunt said. "They might as well ring the bell for World War III. If that's what they want, they should say so."

Senator Cain (R-Wash., one of the authors of the GOP report, told a reporter he and others aren't contending that a cease-fire agreement must provide for complete withdrawal of the Reds from Korea.

"But there will be no permanent peace short of the unification of Korea," he declared, "we will be kidding ourselves if we believe there will be."

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the Republican attack on the administration's Far Eastern policies was "not factual and constructive at all."

"It will do more to divide the American people than anything else at a critical time when unity must be achieved at home," he declared.

Senator George (D-Ga.) said he would study both the comments of eight Republicans and a pending statement by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) before deciding on entering the post-hearing McCarthy dispute.

McMahon's statement may be the administration's chief answer from among members of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees which conducted the ouster inquiry.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says a balanced diet can include as little as 39 pounds of meat, per year.

But it states the gain in dollar value and doesn't break down how much was due to rising prices and how much was actual increase in goods themselves. The council of economic advisors, however, thinks that recently the gain was almost entirely in units, with prices staying fairly level.

The second report is by the president's council of economic advisors. It was made last week and revealed that industrial production dropped sharply in July. The drop was credited to a decline in output of civilian goods to make way for increased production of goods for defense. The shift continued in August, as Uncle Sam's tax dollars played an increasing part in the nation's business.

Over-all production in the first 12 months of the Korean war increased nearly 20 percent, the department of commerce reports.

Larceny Charge Faces L. R. Youths

Little Rock, Aug. 21 —(AP)—Six youths, including four Little Rock high school football players, have been charged with petit larceny here.

They are accused of stealing two cases of beer from a store in a residential district. A preliminary hearing has been set in Municipal court for Aug. 31.

The football players, all lettermen on last year's Big Six championship squad, are Fullback Henry Moore, a 1950 all-state selection, Halfback Billy Hastings, Guard Harold Meeks and End Winston Porter.

The other two youths were identified by police as Dick Witherspoon of Little Rock and Paul of Eudora.

Millionaire Texas Oil Man Dies

Dallas, Aug. 21 —(AP)—Thomas W. Doswell, 55, a millionaire oil operator with successful holdings in West Texas and New Mexico, was shot to death yesterday.

One shot from a .38 caliber snub-nose revolver entered his right chest as he sat in his car with his wife.

Mrs. Doswell told police she had taken the gun from the glove compartment of the car and was about to hand it to her husband when it fired. The gun had been

ONE OF QUADS DIES
Bromley, Eng., Aug. 21 —(AP)—Pettie Mrs. Muriel Brown gave birth to quadruplets—two boys and two girls—last night, but one of the boys died.

The three surviving babies, Denise, Georgina and Tony, were in oxygen tents. The boy who died was named Derek.

The 27-year-old mother is the wife of George Brown, 34, a $19,600-a-week mechanic. The Browns, who already have a four-year-old son, live in a six-room flat.

wrapped in a towel.

Shortly after the shooting, at a side entrance of the fashionable apartment hotel where the couple lived, Mrs. Doswell became hysterical and could not give complete details.

Justice of the peace W. E. Richburg withheld an inquest verdict until she could be questioned again.

Officers said there were two empty cartridges in the revolver but they could only find one bullet.

Mrs. Doswell told officers that she bought the gun Saturday, at Doswell's insistence, and took it with her when she went alone to Pueblo, Colo. Doswell later joined in Pueblo and together they went to Clayton, N. M. The shooting occurred just as the couple had returned from the trip.

Doswell had been an oil operator and promoter in West Texas for about 10 years. He had an interest with Henry Ford, Jr.

He recently opened a new pay zone with a good strike in the San Juan basin of northwest New Mexico.

He reportedly had Rockefeller family financing as well as Ford financing in some of his ventures.
